
BACKGROUNDER

Biography

Leah Nguyen is the newly appointed CIO of InBC and will assume her new role effective April 4, 2022. She is currently an Investment Director for the TELUS Pollinator Fund for Good, one of the world's largest corporate impact funds. Leah helped launch the Pollinator Fund, and now leads sourcing, evaluating, and executing investment opportunities that align with the Fund's triple-bottom line mandate. She was formerly the Business Enablement Director for TELUS Ventures, where she helped to source and identify investments to drive growth into new markets while also serving as a strategic advisor to other TELUS business units. Prior to TELUS, Leah was a management consultant with Accenture and a project manager at lululemon athletica.

Leah is an investor and technology executive with more than 17 years of experience across various industries, including telecommunications, retail, utilities, and natural resources.

She has experience building high-performing, mission-driven teams that leverage technology and innovation to drive sustainable, inclusive solutions and deliver remarkable human outcomes.

Leah is active in the start-up and investor ecosystem, dedicates time to mentoring entrepreneurs and aspiring VCs, and is passionate about supporting individuals of diverse backgrounds while giving back to her local communities. She is also a regular on the speaker circuit and often participates as a judge in pitch competitions.

Leah has a business degree from Simon Fraser University and has participated on numerous private sector and community boards.

Responsibilities of InBC's Chief Investment Officer

Reporting to the Chief Executive Officer, the CIO will:

- Contribute to the development of the Investment Policy Statement (IPS).
- Oversee, define, and deliver a vision for InBC's impact investment strategy within the guardrails of the IPS and the statutory framework.
- Oversee, define and deliver an impact investment strategy designed to achieve all socioeconomic targets within InBC's triple bottom line mandate.
- Deliver the IPS, including overseeing and executing all investment decisions.
- Responsible for ensuring the team's activities are compliant with all applicable policies and legislation, working closely with the finance team.
- Oversee and monitor the overall performance of InBC's portfolio of investments, and take actions as required to maintain and deliver on InBC's investment objectives.